

GERMAN VOTE IS TO ELECT HUGHES

Hanly Says Hughes' Election Will Be Notice to World of German Power.

Decatur, Ill., Oct. 12.—Efforts of national campaign managers of both big political parties to capture the German-American vote were severely criticized and the attitude of President Wilson toward "German atrocities" was pronounced "meek" today by J. Frank Hanly, the Prohibition presidential candidate, in speeches through Illinois. Hanly's comments were prompted by the publication of a story, the truth of which he said he doubted, in relation to alleged conferences between Senator Stone and certain widely known German-Americans in New York over the political situation.

"There are some outstanding facts in this German-American business which stand admitted and reflect no credit upon either the Democratic or the Republican parties, their candidates or their managers.

"Germany is engaged in a great war for the bringing about of which the German emperor, more than any other man, living or dead, is to blame. In her conduct of that war she has violated almost every international law and neutral right. She has murdered our people—men, women and children—on the high seas, destroyed them without warning and without offer of succor.

"Her adherents have formed conspiracies on our soil, beneath our own flag, against American industries, and destroyed workshops and factories by incendiaries.

"The president of the United States has met these German atrocities with such meekness and has treated these hyphenated offenders against the neutrality and the laws of the republic so leniently as to call down upon him severest censure from the very men whom they are supporting.

"The joy of the German press over Mr. Hughes' nomination has been and is ecstatic and country-wide. German organizations throughout the cities of the nation acclaim his candidacy and are aiding in his election.

"If Mr. Hughes is elected president his success may justly be regarded throughout the world as a victory for Germany in the United States. It will be notice to civilization that the German vote, and through the German vote the German government, holds the balance of power in American politics.

"The spectacle of the struggle for this vote by the managers of Hughes and Wilson and the prospect that it may decide the election is disturbing and humiliating."

MANY LAMBS SHIPPED.
Rock Springs, Wyo., Oct. 12.—Seventy thousand head of lambs have been shipped from this district during the past week, the shipments averaging 35 carloads a day. A majority of the shipments went to Colorado feed lots. They represented about $500,000. About 20,000 head remain to be shipped.

MEANT THE ORIGINAL.
The persevering landscape painter knew that he had an observer looking over his shoulder at the easel. He knew from the rustle of skirts that the observer was a woman, yet he worked steadily on. Presently the observer spoke.

"A charming landscape," she said. "Ah, you flatter me," said the artist, modestly. "Compared with the original landscape, it is very poor stuff."

"I meant the original," said the observer.—Exchange.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG
It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to have your bowels and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which would be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

HUGHES HECKLED IN LOUISVILLE

Tells What He Would Have Done at the Threat to Sink Lusitania.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Charles E. Hughes, answering a question here tonight as to what he would have done when the Lusitania was sunk, declared that he would have "made it known in terms unequivocal and unmistakable that we should not tolerate a continuance of friendly relations" when notice was published with reference to the threatened action.

Mr. Hughes was in the midst of his discussion on the maintenance of American rights when he was interrupted by the question.

"The path of peace is the path of self respect, which maintains the dignity of our citizenship and cements the friendship of all nations," he said. A man from the audience interrupted him.

"Justice Hughes, just a moment. Please permit a respectful interruption," shouted the man. "What would you have done—"

"The heckler got no further for the moment. His voice was drowned in hoots, cries and cat-calls.

"Please permit the question to be asked," requested Mr. Hughes. "I do not want anyone shut off from a courteous question. Go on, sir," the nominee added, turning to the questioner. "Please ask your question."

To cries of "Go on, you boob," and general hum of voices, the questioner continued.

"I ask you with all respect that I know, what you would have done when the Lusitania was sunk—see if you can answer that?"

Mr. Hughes paused for a moment. "I will answer this," the nominee said. There was considerable confusion in the hall, and he continued, "Now permit me to answer."

"Sir, I would have had the state department, at the very beginning of the administration, so equipped as to command the respect of the world.

"Secondly—kindly wait till I get through and do not interrupt with applause until I have answered the gentleman's question. I have said that I would have had the state department equipped so as to command the respect of the world at the outset of the administration; and, next, I would have so conducted affairs in Mexico so as to show that our words meant peace and good will, and the protection at all events of the lives and property of American citizens.

"And, next, when I said strict accountability, every nation would have known that that was meant; and, further, when notice was published with respect to the action threatened, I WOULD HAVE MADE IT KNOWN IN TERMS UNEQUIVOCAL AND UNMISTAKABLE, THAT WE SHOULD NOT TOLERATE A CONTINUANCE OF FRIENDLY RELATIONS THROUGH THE ORDINARY DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS IF THAT ACTION WERE TAKEN."

"And the Lusitania, sir, would never have been sunk."

The audience applauded long and loudly.

MOVING TO REDUCE PRICE OF POTATOES
Salt Lake, Oct. 12.—Taking the stand that the jobber and the farmer of Utah are holding the potato crop at too high a price, it has been decided by the Retail Merchants' association to go into the Idaho market for potatoes for the local retail trade.

At least it was decided to name a committee to investigate the matter and report as to what success the retail merchants might meet by purchasing in the Idaho markets, shipping to Salt Lake and selling direct to the consumer, thus eliminating the "middleman."

William Murdock of the association was authorized to name the committee which is to be appointed as soon as possible, it is announced.

The association decided that the "middleman" or jobber should be eliminated as much as possible in all lines of business, but just how to do this was not decided, except in the case of potatoes.

Further decision was reached by the association that in protection of the retailer their prices should be a more strict Sunday law, which would compel delicatessens, grocery stores and meat shops to close and stay closed all day Sunday. The proposition of taking this up with the next legislative session was considered.

In the potato field, it was declared, that the Utah farmer and jobber have boosted their prices until the whole market is $2 a hundred, or 2 cents a pound. It was declared that in Idaho the potatoes can be purchased for $1 per hundred pounds, or 1 cent a pound and that the cost of shipping here is about 20 cents per hundredweight. This, it is claimed, would enable the local retailer to sell his potatoes in Salt Lake for $1.20 per hundred pounds.

about the thirteenth," she laughed.

Lady de Bathe will celebrate her birthday today as the guest of Mrs. F. C. Schramm at a tea to be given in her honor. When Lady de Bathe was here three years ago she met and was entertained by a number of Salt Lake society women, and today she is to meet them again.

Lady de Bathe is a great lover of landscape gardening, and regrets very much that she has not been able to do some of that work in this country like she has about her country home in England. She declares that in America the gardens are too much of the stiff lawn type and not enough of the wild, natural beauty type.

Though telling most vividly of the visits of Zeppelin to her country home, while she was in England recently, Lady de Bathe was disinclined to discuss the war, except to insist that it be made clear that there is no feeling of hatred on the part of the English for the Germans.

MRS. LANGTRY IN SALT LAKE CITY

Salt Lake, Oct. 13.—Lady de Bathe, better known by her stage name of Mrs. Lily Langtry, will celebrate her birthday today in Salt Lake, and, although it is Friday, the thirteenth of October, she declares that she is not superstitious.

"Just think of it," said she last night, "born on the thirteenth, and probably on Friday, too, though I am sure I don't know. A great palmit one," said to me, "if you only hadn't been born on the thirteenth. Just think what you might have done in the world. But I am not worried

Berlin, Oct. 12, by wireless to Sayville.—In his speech at the opening of yesterday's reichstag session, Major Bassermann, leader of the National Liberals, said:

"Our enemies tell us they have imposed upon us an order of warfare that has forced the defensive, when at this very time we are rejoicing over the manner in which the German spirit of offense is winning success in the war against the Rumanians in Transylvania, in Dobruja and on the Danube. We trust in the strength of our army commanded by Field Marshal von Hindenburg and General von Ludendorff. We proudly point to the success of our navy in its victory in the Skagerrak under the glorious leadership of Admirals Hipper and Scheer. In these achievements of our navy, in the success of our sailors, we recognize the spirit of the master of the German navy, Grand Admiral von Tirpitz."

Major Bassermann expressed his confidence that the firm will of the German nation would bring the war to a victorious end and "subdue the hostile spirit of the British government and the British people."

The speaker pleaded for the abolition of the censorship. He said the committee had received the impression that the military situation everywhere was satisfactory and hopeful.

Blames Great Britain.

Herr Naumann, the radical leader, alluded to the cause of the war, insisting that the only means of averting resort to arms would have been direct communication between Vienna and St. Petersburg, which was rendered impossible by the continuation of the Russian mobilization. Great Britain had been able to prevent this, as she recognized the dangers underlying this mobilization, as was shown by the warnings of Ambassador Buchanan to Foreign Minister Sazonoff. She ought to have followed the example furnished by the German chancellor, declared the
